

PLAN YOUR TRIP

EAST MULTNOMAH COUNTY

Become immersed in the world of the Cascades, smitten by green pastures and rolling farmland, or awed by the primordial forces that carved the Columbia Gorge and forged that astonishing landscape.

Out here, we work to sustain our nature so the generations who follow can appreciate what drew us here, too. Explore our area!

Places to Eat

- 1 Stomping Grounds
- 2 Troutdale General Store
- 3 Bumper's Grill and Bar
- 4 The Lucky Pint

Places to Explore

- 5 Columbia Gorge Outlets
- 6 McMenamins Edgefield
- 7 Dabney State Park

Places to Stay

- 8 Embassy Suites by Hilton Portland Airport
- 9 Bridal Veil Lodge Bed & Breakfast

EAST
MULTNOMAH
CYCLING HUB

bikeEMC.com

BIKE MAP

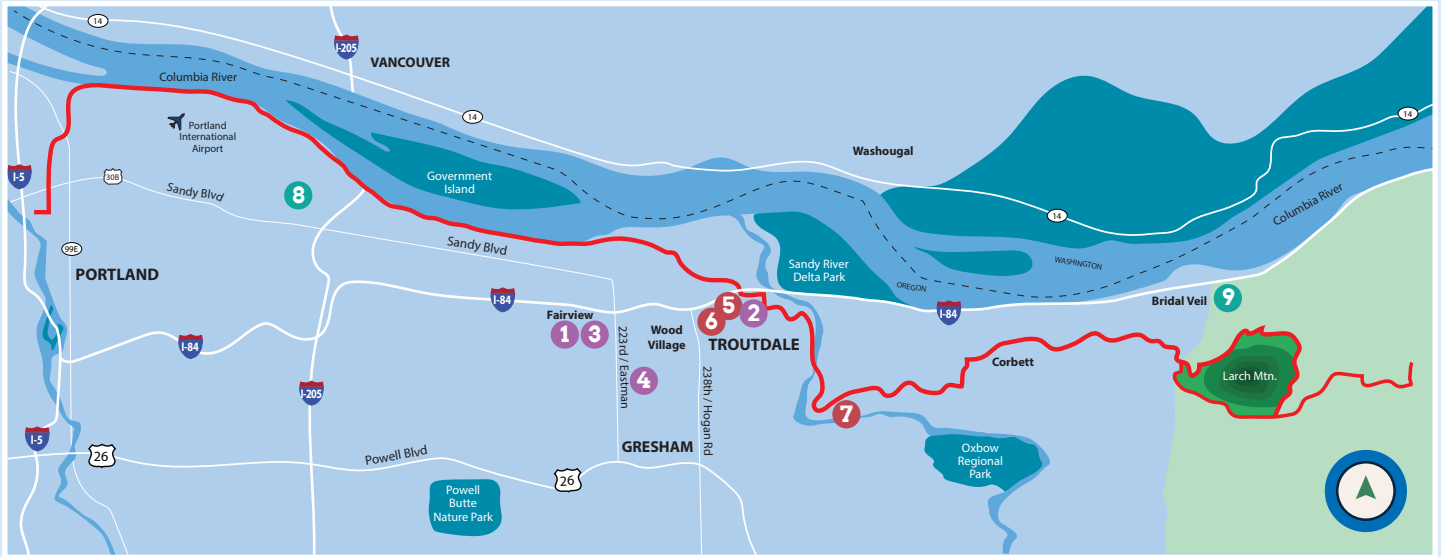

ROAD RIDE

Portland to Larch Mountain

Gresham Area
Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Center

PORTLAND TO LARCH MOUNTAIN

ROAD RIDE

For a lot of Portland-area riders, Larch Mountain is considered the “Big Hill in Town”, rising from the Columbia River to around 3,500 feet in less than 25 miles. The ride is challenging, beautiful, and very rewarding.

As mapped, the ride starts in North Portland, following the Columbia River, hooking up with the Springwater Corridor Trail, and then along the Sandy River before turning upward. It’s relatively flat until you top at the Portland Women’s Forum lookout – a great place to stop and take in the view of the Columbia Gorge. Just after that, Larch Mountain Road splits off to the right and continues on.

While you’re in the area, you might want to take a short (1/2-mile) jaunt down to the left to Crown Point, to see the restored Vista House. Refill your water bottle there!

A view of the beautiful Sandy River.

An interior shot of the Troutdale General Store. Stop on your way to the Columbia Gorge!